

HOW YOUR LEGACY WILL BE USED

Funds received from Legacy Society members are not used to pay the costs of operating our parish.

They are accumulated and only used for special capital purchases.

FORMS OF BEQUESTS

Because a charitable bequest to your parish is usually only a part of an estate plan it can take various forms.

The two most common bequests are a specific dollar amount or a percent of the total estate after taxes and administrative expenses.

The commitment can also be accomplished outside of the will by making the parish the beneficiary of an individual retirement account (IRA), life insurance policy, certificate of deposit or trust.

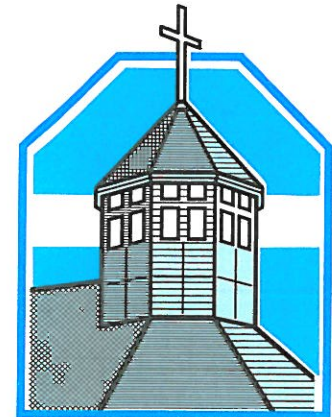

CHANGING YOUR WILL OR LIVING TRUST

It is not necessary to have your present will or living trust changed in order to make a bequest to your parish. It can be accomplished by attaching a codicil to the will or an amendment form to the living trust.

Forms are available by calling the parish office.

WHAT IS A LEGACY SOCIETY?

A Legacy Society is comprised of a group of parish members, who through a bequest or some other deferred giving means, have provided for the future financial needs of their parish.

During one's lifetime there are often valid reasons that place a limit on what we would like to contribute to our parish. However sincere is our desire to contribute more, the unpredictability of life is a legitimate concern. More and more Catholics are making provisions in their wills, living trusts or utilizing other deferred giving arrangements to satisfy their desire that their parish be remembered.

OUR LEGACY SOCIETY

St. Paul the Apostle Parish has established a Legacy Society to encourage legacies to our parish. The only requirement for membership is to advise us your parish is being remembered. The confirmation is not binding and you do not reveal to us the amount.

St. Paul the Apostle Parish Legacy Society has over 80 members who invite you to join them.
